Animal Tales, Crafts and Yoga at the Zoo this Winter

Infuse a little wild into winter with Nashville Zoo's education programs. Nashville Zoo offers programs for all ages, including adventures designed to bring the whole family together.

Crafts, stories and animal guests await children at Wild and Crafty Animal Tales. This special story time takes place at 10:30 a.m. in the Zoo's Croft Center every Tuesday in January. Each session is different and hosts a surprise animal visitor.

On Jan. 10, kids can stretch out and find their inner animals at YogaKids. Nashville Zoo's education staff is partnering with YogaKids for the wildest yoga in Music City. Children ages 4 and older can stretch out, relax and actually meet one of the animal inspirations for a pose they learn. YogaKids is held in the Zoo's Croft Center from 9 – 10:30 a.m.
